

My View: Michaleen Hilton

Michaleen Hilton from Oakhill, saw Les Misérables performed by the Stoke Youth Musical Theatre Company at The Mitchell Memorial.

"THIS was the performance of the short version of Les Misérables by young people from Stoke Youth Musical Theatre and they are a credit to the city. Their talent was endless and captivating.

The joy came from seeing the cast and musicians having such a marvellous time, though no allowances for youth whatsoever needed to be made for any of the cast. They were led by a directing and stage management team with a great deal of skill, commitment and understanding of what makes good theatre work. If you want to put your son or daughter on the stage, check Stoke Youth out as you won't be disappointed."
